

Elements of Manifest Zero

Start looking around. See the purpose after each color?

Now you see it, now you see it.

What is it that gave said image to imagery?

Had they only seen it in time.

I would never have lost my mind,

I would have never lost my mind.

My name is Jasmin "Kai" Ivanković, and I'm starting over; I attended schools galore and never found any of it meaningful (personally to my affect). There were achievements and the awards that never came to "fruition", which was and, now and again, still is, a word I've always struggle to handle spelling after an all-nighter "lost in thought" (so to speak) , or should I say "nuance-seeking"? Had I spent it remembering lectures where professors I'd have to remember the name of that told me things that I had to factcheck to prove to them I was correct all along, most would say: "No, it's not a matter of staying sane enough to care." I'd, in fact, cared all along. I came all this way.

What can I say, most would never say it; I cared about playing the system? Was I open or closed, and did Godel know? Everyone's watching. Hurry about your troubles. I felt as tough it was all crashing under me all over again and it felt as though it was all crashing under me all over and and and and and and and and////

Not in the acute state of uniquely human affairs that persist in the tides of frozen man. Cursed is her face. Cursed it was to become. Cursed it was to see the truth and die in the morning. Cursed is her face. Or fate. I went on one date and felt as though the last six years were a mixed backpack of notoriety and shape. I went swimming on February 21st, 2020. It lasted only a brief time. AND I WILL NEVER AGAIN SWIM WITH THE SHALLOW.

Which is more sane? There's more to it, dear - forever and ever and ever.
